Cliffe Heritage Buildings Trail

A circular trail starting at St Helens Church turn right along the Buttway

A Saxon church was founded on this site in 774 by King Offa of Mercia and great church councils were held in Cliffe or Cloveshoo as it was known then. Cliffe church is mentioned in the Domesday Book, was almost completely rebuilt by the Normans in 1260 and is one of the largest parish churches in the country. Arthur Broome a curate at Saint Helens 1812-1820 founded what was to become the RSPCA in 1824.
